HER MOST ROMANTIC HISTORY

The Cause of the Trouble with the Ring-Her Great Beauty and Noble Character Described-A Notable Exploit-Sympathy from Bussia.

BUCHAREST, May 21.—The exiled ex-Queen Natalie is on her way to Jassy. At Semlin she was given a tearful farewell and several women who had gathered around her at the dock with the students, kissed her hands and hair.

Queen Natalie is the daughter of a Russian, Colouel Von Kechko, and Princess Stourdza, who possessed large estates in Bessarabia, and left to their three children great wealth. When Natalie von Kechko married Prince Milan, in 1875, she was only sixteen years old and endowed with great besuty, enhanced by fascinating manners and a good heart-qualities which were much appreciated by her subjects when she became their Queen in 1882. she lent new luster to the court at Belshe leat new luster to the court at Bererale, and by her superior intelligence took the lead in Servian politics. The first cause of discord between King Milan and his consort was of a strictly private nature and had nothing to with politics, although Queen Natale never denied her predilection for Hissia, while her husband leaned to-seros Austria. Russia was not loath to lie never denied her preddlection for linsis, while her husband leaned towarcs Austria. Russia was not loath to make political capital out of the dissensions between the royal couple, and openly sided with the Queen. The limperor Alexander offered her Livadia Castle, in the Crimea, as a residence, placed a man-of-war at her disposal to remove thence with the Crown Prince Alexander, then eleven years old. Several attempts at reconciliation subsequently failed, and Queen Natalie still lives separate from her husband.

Natalie is described as an exceedingly beattifal woman. Her figure, it is caimed, rivals the marbles of antiquity, while her face is illuminated by the fame of sweet affection and superior in-elligence. Tall and graceful, modest, and yet with the bearing of a queen, she at the same time has the attractions of a lovely young girl. Her broad foreheat is shaded with soft, silky waves of dark hair, and her brown eyes beam with kindness and interest upon all who approach her.

who approach her. A NOTABLE EXPLOIT.

The manner in which Queen Natalie was able to check and mysteriously arrest the onward march of the victorarrest the onward march of the Victorious Bulgarian army on Belgrade in 1885 reads aim t like the Old Testament tory of Judith and Holofernes. It was the Queen herself who had egged on the war which her coward husband was moved to declare against Bulgaria. Russia, confident of the Servian success, was naturally willing to see Prince Alexwas naturally willing to see Prince Alex-ander (one of the Battenburgs) destroy-ed. Contrary, however, to everybody's expectation the Bulgarians were victorious and the invading Servians were in full retreat, when suddenly there rode into the camp of Alexander an Austrian of high rank who verbally informed the rince that if he continued his march on Belgrade an Austrian army would enter that city at his heels. A hint from such a source was enough. Ac-cordingly Prince Alexander brought his cordingly Prince Alexander brought his victorious army to a halt and withdrew from Servian territory, creating thereby the most intense surprise. The agent who was able to effect the day was the handsome Count Rudolph von Khevenhuller, Austrian Ambassador at Bolgrade, with whom the fascinating Queen was known to sustain the most intimate wherein

FLIGHT TO GERMANY.

Natalie fled to Germany, taking with her the little Crown Prince. King Milan demanded the surrender of the boy, but the Queen was obstinate. In July an officer, attended by twenty policemen, entered Natalie's villa at Wiesbaden and shortly afterward reappeared with young Prince Alexander, the Crown Prince, and a lady of honor of the Queen's suite. The two were bundled into a closed carriage and driven to the railway station, where the Prince was handed over to the Chief of the Servian police, who placed him in a train and in a few min-placed him in a train and in a few min-ties they were on their way to Belgrade. When the Queen received notice from the police that she must part with her son, she telegraphed to King Milan, im-ploring him to allow the boy to remain another month. The King, however, was incensed at the abrupt manner with which the Queen had refused his proposal for mediation, and telegraphed back to the Orown Prince's tutor that the boy must not remain a day longer. The Queen had planned to flee the boy, and with this intention had ordered a special train. She failed to state her destination and the authorities refused to give her the train.

THE NEW PARTY. Four States Comprised Two-thirds of the Convention-Small Representation from

CINCINNATI, C., May 21.—The National Union transacted its business vesterday in such a great hurry to attain its principal object-the formation of a third party-that there was little thought of the principles involved. The Nationalists, however, met this

The Nationalists, however, met this morning, and after scanning over the platform, passed a resolution heartily endorsing the formation of the party, and pledging their support.

An examination of the report of the committee on credentials shows Kansas furnished nearly one-third of the whole number of delegates. She, with Missouri, Nebraska, Ohio and Indiana, inraished 1,049 of the 1,417 delegates. Vermont, New Hampshire. New Jersey, Mississippi and Georgia do not appear at all on the list, and all the New England eastern States combined, includat all on the list, and all the New Eng-land eastern States combined, includ-ing New York and Pennsylyania, had but twenty-eight delegates. In the South, Louisiana had two, North Caro-lina one, Texas twenty-six, South Caro-lina one, and Tennessee six; a total of 36 for the whole South.

This morning the new national execulina one, and Tennessee six; a total of 36 for the whole South.

This morning the new national executive committee held its first meeting in a little back parlor in a small hotel. Robert Schilling, of Milwaukee, was chosen secretary, and M. C. Rankin, of Terre Haute, Indiana, treasurer. The meeting was presided over successfully by Chairman Taubeneck, a big, unsophisticated-looking farmer, who had been in the Illinois Legislature.

It was resolved to authorize the chairman and secretary to issue a call for voluntary contributions to be kept standing in all reform papers.

It was also resolved that a national executive committee be formed to consist of the chairman, secretary, treasurer and four members to be elected by this committee.

The four elected are George E. Washburn, of Massachusetts; G. F. Gaiterer, of Alabama; Ignatius Donnelly, of Minnesota; J. R. Davis, of Texas. The committee adjourned subject to the call of the executive committee: It was further resolved that the three members of the national committee of the People's party in each State shall constitute a state committee for such State, and it shall be their duty to appoint a subcommittee.

Colton, of Philadelphia; Chas. Mackall, of Baltimore; Senator Camden and Governor Fleming, of this State; Col. Henry McCormick, Lyman D. Gilbert, Spencer C. Gilbert, Andrew McCreath, Jas. D. Cameron and Col. Aldrich, all of Harrisburg, Pa.; M. Saxman, of Latrobe, Pa.; Congressman Hill, of Pennsylvania, John Wisler, the prominent iron manufacturer of that State. They spent the day in visiting the mines near town, and at Montana taking carriages and visiting the Barrackville and Pawpaw coal fields, in which they are largely interested. Those who had never been here were greatly surprised at the extent and quality of the coal and coke shipped from this point. Compton, of Maryland; S. W. Colton,

IMPORTANT PATENT CASE, Bellaire Glass Companies Sued for In-fringement by a Pittsburgh Firm. Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.

COLUMBUS, OHIO, May 21.—The Dixon Wood Company, of Pittsburgh, filed two suits in equity in the United States Court here to-day against the Bellaire Window Glass Works and the Bellaire Crystal Window Glass Company. The Crystal Window Glass Company. The orator sets up that they are the owners of the letters patent numbers 258 and 186 for certain improvements in annealing furnaces for window glass manufactories. The orator prays that the defendants may be subponed into court to answer whether they have at any time made or used annealing furnaces constructed in whole or part upon the principles described in their letters patent; that a decree be issued requiring them to account for the profits thus unlawfully derived and that they be perpetually ignored and restrained from further infringing on the rights of the orators.

AUDITOR CRITES' ANSWER To the Charge of Examining Senator Brice Secretly or Fraudulently. Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.

Columbus, Ohio. May 21.—Auditor Cites, of Allen county, through his attorney, John A. McMahon, to-day filed in the Supreme Court his answer to the contempt proceedings for failing to place all of Senator-elect Calvin Brice's taxes upon the duplicate. In his answer Auditor Crites declares that he has pursued the same course usually taken by himself and his predecessor. He denies that he did not proceed upon the facts and evidence submitted by the tax inquisitor or that Brice was examined secretic or frauduently. secretly or fraudulently.
